

International Symposium on the Teaching of English in Asia

Locating the Teaching of English in Japan in Asian Contexts: What We Can Learn from China and Korea

Organized by: Grants-in-Aid for Scientific Research (Basic Research B) “Compilation of Asian English Text Corpus and Comparative Study Based on It” (Project C4 of the International Institute of Language and Culture Studies, Ritsumeikan University)

Co-Hosted by: Graduate School of Language Education and Information Science (LEIS)

Date and time: January 17 (Sat.), 2009, 13: 00–17: 50

Place : Conference Room, on the ground floor of Soshikan on Kinugasa Campus

[Program]

Greetings from the Organizer

NAKAMURA Junsaku (Prof. of Ritsumeikan University)

Introduction of Guest Speakers by the Coordinator

ASAO Kojiro (Prof. of Ritsumeikan University)

Lecturers

LIU Yongjun (Vice Editor-in-chief, English Weekly Published by Shanxi Normal University Press)

“Current Situation and Issues of the Teaching of English in China”

KWON Oryang (Prof. of Seoul National University)

“Current Situation and Issues of the Teaching of English in Korea”

YAMAOKA Kenji (Prof. of Ritsumeikan University)

“Current Situation and Issues of the Teaching of English in Japan”

Plenary Discussion

